

KNOXVILLE TROLLEY:

To catch a ride . . . Find a trolley stop with the line you want displayed. When the trolley comes, look for the round sign on the front (or the electronic sign on the top-front of the newer trolleys). If it's the route you want, wave to the bus operator, hop on, and relax. It's FREE!

KNOXVILLE TROLLEY: IT'S FREE. IT'S EASY. IT'S FUN!

HOP ON IT!

Many Knoxville attractions located outside the downtown area are still within easy reach through the KAT bus system. Route schedules are available at Knoxville Station on Church Avenue as well as the downtown library and the Visitor Center.

Fares for KAT's regular bus service are $1.50 for adults (50¢ for transfers)—discounted rates are available for seniors, disabled persons and students; children under five ride free. Buses depart from Knoxville Station Transit Center.

TROLLEY HIGHLIGHTS

The Bijou Theater

Built in 1817, this historic theater, the fourth oldest building in Knoxville, has survived some tough times and continues to provide a variety of entertainment—dance, music, plays and other special performances. (865) 522-0832

Blount Mansion

This mansion—Knoxville's only National Historic Landmark—was built between 1792 and 1830 by William Blount, a signer of the U.S. Constitution. Blount was also the first & only governor of the Southwest Territory, and this mansion served as the territorial capital. Admission charge. Hours: Tues.-Sat. 9:30 a.m. - 5 p.m., Closed Sundays. (865) 525-2375

Civic Coliseum & Auditorium

This downtown facility is a popular spot for all kinds of entertainment venues; it is the home of the Knoxville Ice Bears hockey team, and also hosts concerts, circuses, gymnastics performances and more. (865) 215-8900

Cumberland Avenue/The Strip

A popular spot for UT students and many others, this section of road passes between UT and the historic Fort Sanders neighborhood; features a variety of shops & restaurants and has a very active nightlife.

East TN History Center

Learn about the unique history and heritage of our region at the East TN History Center: from the Cherokee to the 1982 World's Fair, from Davy Crockett's first gun to one of Dolly Parton's dresses, visitors will enjoy exploring three centuries of life in East Tennessee. Admission charge except for Sundays. Hours: Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m. - 4 p.m., Sat. 10 a.m. - 4 p.m., Sun. 1 p.m. - 5 p.m. (865) 215-8830

James White's Fort

Built in 1786 by General James White, Knoxville's founder, this site was restored & opened to the public in 1970. Visitors can get a feel for frontier life as they explore the original house, restored stockade, loom house, smokehouse & blacksmith shop. Hours: Mon.-Sat. 9:30 a.m.-5 p.m. (Apr.-Nov.); Mon.-Fri. 10 a.m.-4 p.m. (Dec.-Mar.) (865) 525-6514

Knoxville Convention Center

Located on the edge of the World's Fair Park, it provides space for a variety of conventions and special events throughout the year; a natural theme reflecting the majesty of the surrounding mountains is carried throughout the interior. (865) 522-5669

Knoxville Museum of Art

Features a permanent collection of contemporary art, as well as exhibits from around the world. You'll find more than just oil paintings and photography exhibits here—glasswork, pottery, sculptures and more can be found on display. The KMA also hosts the popular "Alive after Five" concert series (separate admission applies). No admission charge. Hours: Tues.-Sat. 10 a.m.-5 p.m., Sun. 1 p.m.-5 p.m. (865) 525-6101

Krutch Park & Market Square

Krutch Park is a great little "escape to nature" in the heart of downtown, featuring a small stream, a variety of native plants and plenty of places to sit and relax. At the north end of the park is historic Market Square, where you will always find great places for shopping and dining, as well as a huge variety of events, including open-air concerts, movies, plays, arts & crafts shows and more.

The Old City

This historic downtown district is home to unique stores, coffee shops, nightspots & restaurants, including the famed Patrick Sullivan's, which was founded in 1888. According to legend, Buffalo Bill Cody and members of Butch Cassidy's gang were among the early patrons.

Regal Riviera Theater

This state-of-the-art theater is on the same site as the original Riviera, which opened in 1920. Built in the same art deco style as the original Victorian-era building, the Riviera now has eight auditoriums and a seating capacity of 2,000. For current movie offerings, call (865) 522-5160.

Tennessee Theatre

This renovated Rococo-style theatre is the "Official State Theatre" of Tennessee and is listed on the National Register of Historic Places. Home to the Knoxville Symphony Orchestra and the Knoxville Opera Company, the Tennessee is also the venue for vintage films, musical performances and special performances on the Mighty Wurlitzer Organ, played by Dr. Bill Snyder, former chancellor of the University of Tennessee. (865) 684-1200

The University of Tennessee

Visit Ayres Hall, the recently renovated (and now LEED certified) historic building at the top of The Hill that is UT Knoxville's signature building. Stop by Neyland Stadium, home of the 1998 National Championship Volunteers. You can also visit UT's McClung Museum at 1327 Circle Park Dr.—this museum houses collections in anthropology, archaeology, decorative arts, local history and natural history. No admission charge. Hours: Mon.-Sat. 9 a.m.-5 p.m., Sun. 1 p.m.-5 p.m. (865) 974-2144

Visitors' Center

You'll find more than just brochures and maps here! Listener-supported WDVX radio station is also located here and features a variety of bluegrass, folk, Americana and traditional mountain music—stop by at lunchtime for some live music, or just take a break and enjoy some great coffee or local foods at The Parlor. Don't leave until you visit the "Uniquely Knoxville" Gift Shop featuring a wide selection of locally made products and merchandise. Hours: Mon.-Fri. 7:30 a.m. - 6 p.m.; Sat. 9 a.m. - 5 p.m.; Sun. Noon - 4 p.m. (865) 523-7263

Women's Basketball Hall of Fame

It's easy to spot this unique facility; just look for the 30-ft. tall, 10-ton basketball sitting atop a glass staircase designed to look like a basketball net. Inside you'll find more than the typical Hall of Fame displays. Visitors can shoot hoops, test their skills in dribbling and passing, and compare their vertical leap to that of WNBA superstars. Admission charge. Hours: Tues.-Fri. 11 a.m.-5 p.m., Sat. 10 a.m.-5 p.m., closed Sun. & Monday. (Labor Day-April 30); Mon.-Sat. 10 a.m.-5 p.m., closed on Sunday. (May 1-Labor Day). (865) 633-9000
